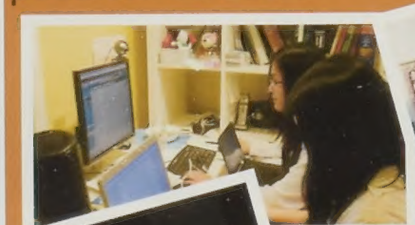
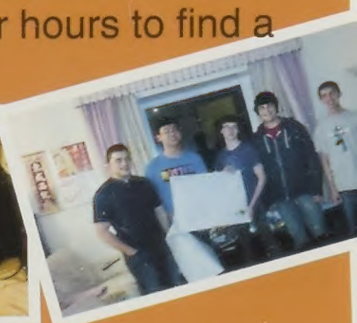
Juniors Sean Ridinger and Anthony Niccolardi were named to the All State Academic Team by PAFootballNews.com. Sean was selected to the silver team & Anthony to the bronze team.

MN students competed in the "Moody 's Mega Math Challenge," a national competiton. This year's complex problem was to create a solution for the drought of Lake Powell in the Colorado River Basin. Ed Callaghan, Drew Lopreiato, Greg Stulpin, Kenny Yau, Kyle Cameron, Christie Abel, Jeanette Ding, Joshua Kim, Rebecca Lin, and Hana Yeh worked for hours to find a possible solution.



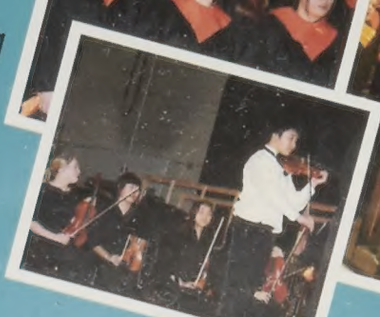


Renaissance members had fun at the recognition event, "Battle of the Bands".

Many students performed in the successful spring musical, "The Pajama Game"!

Mr. Shumoski's AP Physics class was on NBC10's show "The Teacher Says". They were given the task of calculating (utilizing the laws of physics) exactly how high MN's baseball backstop needs to be in order to stop foul balls from going astray.

The annual Spring Concert was a success. Choir, orchestra, concert band, and jazz band performed an array of music.



COMMUNITY SERVICE

Throughout the school year, many Marple Newtown students generously volunteer their time, making our community a better place.

On September 25, students from Ms. Roessner's AP US History class attended "Valley Forge National Public Lands Day". They cleaned up an 18th century mansion that was used during the Revolutionary War, removing vegetation and other debris from the grounds.

The Interact Club supported the American Cancer Society in their annual fundraiser called "Daffodil Days". Interact members sold the flowers throughout the school district and community, raising over $2,000.

For Read Across America, MN students collected 5,426 books to donate to the children at Cole Manor Elementary School.

In honor of Dr. Suess's birthday, students from Mrs. Fahnestock's class read stories to children at MNSD elementary schools.

Student Council sponsored their annual Canned Food Drive for "Preston & Steve's Camp Out For Hunger". Marple Newtown students donated more cans then ever before, totaling over 2,500!

Every Monday night, Marple Newtown National Honor Society members visit Sunrise Senior Living in Newtown Square to play BINGO with the residents.

National Honor Society members also volunteer their time to make sandwiches for locals in need. They do this once every month at St. Marks Church in Broomall.

During this holiday season, the Marple Newtown High School Choir and Orchestra along with Paxon Hollow Tiger Tunes performed Christmas and Holiday music at CADES, a Special Needs School and Adult Program.

Class Officers 2011

President Alaina Sforza

This is it. High School is officially done and thankfully we have all survived! Congratulations to all of us for accomplishing such a huge milestone in our lives. No matter what the future has in store for us, we all have a common link, which is Marple Newtown High School. The memories we have accumulated throughout the past four years are unforgettable. I am honored, privileged and thankful that you have elected me to be your president to help create some of these memories. Nicolette, Dan, Emily, Bill and I have gone above and beyond for the senior class. I hope we have made you proud. I also hope that when you look back, in this yearbook, you smile and remember the experiences you have had, the people you have met and the lessons you have learned. No matter where we go, in life, Marple Newtown High School will always be a part of us, and I hope it is a part that you are proud of.

As cliché as it may sound, where has the time gone? It feels like just yesterday we were timid freshmen dressed in gray, appalled by the senior's "prank", of hurling bouncy balls across the gym floor at our first pep rally. The time has gone quicker than any of us had imagined. From here, we part our separate ways: off to college, to work, to trade school, to the armed forces. I wish the best of luck to all of you. Encounter everything which comes your way with an open mind and open heart. Reach for the stars.

High School: We will never forget those summer nights spent waiting for a fun opportunity or adventure to come our way. Still those nights seemed like some of the best, side by side with our closest friends, making the best out of nothing, laughing endlessly at everything. Think about the countless football games we suffered, in the cold together, and the storming of the field at the greatest playoff game witnessed in our time at Marple Newtown High School. These are just a few of the memories, which make-up our high school experience.

Officers: Thank you! Together we have dealt with the stress that came our way - The hallway decorating that made us crazy, the 1st banner incident where we accidently painted the hallway floor, the 2nd banner incident where we bought a sheet that failed to absorb water. Through the frustrations and disagreements, together we have conquered many obstacles. From our spectacular dances to our undefeated showcases, we have achieved success. Mrs. Can and Mrs. Brodsky, thank you so much for everything you have done for us. We couldn't have done it without you. Congratulations Class of 2011. We did it!

Secretary Nicolette Killen

Vice President Bill Wisenton

Congratulations to the Marple Newtown Class of 2011 upon our graduation. I read a quote, recently given to me, from my cousin: "You can sit back to be dazzled by the dimmer stars at night, because after a while, you'll realize that they're the brightest after all." Now, I haven't consulted with our resident astronomer, Mr. Speca, on specifics, but there is merit in the quote. The stars we see at night are all across the galaxy; some we see as brighter than others. Generally the brighter a star appears, the closer to earth it is; the dimmer the star appears, the farther from earth it is. However, if those two stars were placed side by side, the star that once appeared dimmer may actually be brighter. Therefore the point at which the stars are seen from determines how bright the stars seem to be. Today, in school, we are largely looked at from the standpoint of grades or test performance; the higher a grade the brighter we shine. We are now leaving high school and the constraints of the perspectives we've been looking through for twelve years will change. We may move to places where things that once looked dim will appear bright, as the same star may shine bright here, on earth, but dimly on another planet. Our goal now is to move to a place where the thing each of us individually hold as most important is seen to shine the brightest. On our journey we may pass through trade school, college, work, entrepreneurship, apprenticeship, sadness, joy or whatever else we come upon. There is one constant though, that a star's brightness is always effected by its size--bigger stars obviously have more fuel to shine. What we can take from this, is that to reach our own world, where the things we treasure shine brightest, we need to be big. Big hearted, having big bravery, thinking big, and as we already do, simply going big. --To the Class of 2011.

Treasurer Emily Mast

To Alaina, Bill & Nic - We are such an awesome team! Thank you so much for your dedication to everything we have accomplished. All of the time spent painting banners, sorting spirit wear and decorating showcases have definitely proven our competitive nature and commitment to our class. It has been a lot of fun working with you guys!

Mrs. Brodsky, I couldn't have asked for a better class advisor and mentor throughout high school. Your support and commitment has been greatly appreciated and your expert guidance has helped us more than I can begin to explain.
Mrs. Can, You were an awesome addition to our senior year! Thank you for your time, artistic talent, and creativity! It has been great working with you. Your time and patience are greatly appreciated.

To the Class of 2011, It is hard to believe that it is already time for us to walk in Commencement. These past four years have flown by! Our time at Marple has been memorable and the classes behind us definitely have a tough act to follow after our epic spirit week sweep. I would like to thank each and every one of you for contributing to the fun times I had at Marple and making my high school experience truly unforgettable. It has been my pleasure serving as treasurer to such a great group of people. As we all go our separate ways after graduation, we will always share the common bond of being a part of the MNHS Class of 2011. I wish you all success and happiness in wherever life takes you.

A Message from our Principal...

Welcome to the 2011 edition of Memories. This year has truly been a year of change. It has been a transition in your life and a transition at your school. This is a theme that you will continue to follow as you move forward into the next phase of your life. I am sure that you had many experiences in high school, both good and bad; they will all combine to create your high school memories. This book will serve as a tool to help you preserve your memories. As the years progress, once you leave here, the details fade but the feelings you hold will always remain. Try to remember high school as an important and happy time in your life.

Whatever your future holds, I wish you the best of luck. I speak for everyone when I say we have enjoyed your time with us and we hope you feel the same.

Introducing The 2011 Yearbook Staff

Editors in Chief

Shivani Bhanderi & Alexandra Stephanou

Taking on the role of the 2010-2011 yearbook was a responsibility that is unmeasurable. Ever since the day I received your email, I joined the yearbook committee. I always looked forward to being yearbook editor. Others told me that I was crazy for wanting this position, but I didn't realize it until our first meeting came. Even when we thought something was going the way we planned, something would pop up and we would have to start all over. But I guess in the end, all the late nights and stressful moments were amazing and I'm so glad I was the finished product. Overall, the yearbook was a great experience and it taught me a lot about myself and about working together as a team and I learned a lot. To Alexa, I can't say enough good things about you. You are always up for anything and everything. You are always up for a challenge and I would have been lost without you. Thank you for always being there for me and for helping me with everything. Whether it was a late night Starbucks run or a late night working session, you were always there. I'm so glad we made it back, we make a great team, and I'm so proud of us for all the obstacles we overcame. Thank you for your positive attitude in times of stress and for always being the voice of reason. Thank you for your creative abilities that we had in our quotes, theme, great working with you! To Alexa Thomas for coaching us into the swing of things in our first year. We became great friends through this, and I am glad that I got to know you better. Your hard work and dedication helped make the process of yearbook so effortless. We had some great times hanging out at Harvard events, going to Rutter and Rain and planning future meetings over yearbook. To all we are truly thankful for your hard work and dedication. Thank you for being the amazing people that you are. Thank you for being a part of the yearbook committee. Alexandra thanks for being a co-editor extraordinaire with your unlimited ideas and creativity. Alexa, the Photography amazing editor on all of the pages. You were exactly what the yearbook needed to be a page was to be done and fast. Kelsey, you are the greatest friend, advisor that we could have had. Thank you for being patient with us and taking down to help us go through problems and problems. All and you a million times. The book wouldn't have been the way it was. To the rest of 2011, even though this could only be perfect, we have much to make it more. After this experience, I hope that someday this will be looked back on fondly and remembered. We had a great time and memories all the fun times that we had these 4 years. Don't look at all and I have come and I will miss you all. Thank you for all the memories!

Shivani Bhanderi
Co-Editor in Chief

When I received the task of becoming an editor-in-chief with Alexandra, I had no idea what I had signed on for. I remember seeing all of the fresh faces that showed up our first and wondering how we were ever going to put together. But we did it, hurray! We made the yearbook, and we got into some pretty [illegible] something you are proud of. Shivani, I could not have asked for a better partner with me this year. There are really a few things we've done together that I haven't enjoyed. Nearly [illegible] of the [illegible] week and [illegible] singing in Taper, [illegible] Carnival and [illegible] experience that I could have had [illegible] a winner. You have shown me [illegible] and you were always on top of what needed to [illegible] and I would have been lost without you [illegible] but I think we make a great team, and [illegible] of our three [illegible] questions, from cover to cover [illegible] we had in the [illegible] work, I will go over, I will cover [illegible] Thank you. To Alexa and Alexandra, [illegible] Thank you for all of your help [illegible] phrases. Your [illegible] your commitment to this book [illegible] Alexandra, you're [illegible] you always count on me or you to help [illegible] Alexa, I want to thank you for always [illegible] creative vibe when I felt like we [illegible] about how a page should [illegible] you are the ultimate "leader" and I am confident [illegible] know every single person in this school by now [illegible] I was ever so nervous or stressed, you could put a [illegible] on my face. To Kelsey, I thank you for giving us [illegible] your wisdom sometimes really hard for us! The yearbook [illegible] help of a lady you were. From the "Summer" [illegible] to [illegible] you took on any task and did it well. I cannot thank you enough. To [illegible] Mr. Hanna and Ms. Fuller, thank you so. Hanna I could never count on you or be better and see the [illegible] Mr. Fuller, your encouragement was always able to calm me down if I was stressed. You are more than you [illegible] and always [illegible] I think I can speak for all of the seniors when I say how this has been a [illegible] not have been successful without both of you! I [illegible] as all of the Mary [illegible] success. I hope the countless hours we spent on the room have made it a more collection of your memories from this school year. Congratulations Class of 2011 - good luck with whatever life may throw you!

To the Classes of 2011, 2012, 2013, & 2014

Flipping through our high school yearbooks we did not realize the entensive amount of thought behind this 176 page project. Until we landed here, in the yearbook room, on our first day of school. (Well first we got lost, then we landed here.) The setup and the planning that went into our mere twenty-five pages took a considerable amount of time and patience. However, as we look back on it now we see how worth while it all has been. Looking through the pages, triggers memories in our minds. The days we spent laughing over ridiculous pictures of ourselves, the multitude of sporting events we spectated and [illegible] This [illegible] yearbook [illegible] of our Senior Year.

To Amen: We loved your company and your no [illegible] memory.

To Nicole: You [illegible] Thank you so much for everything.

To Shavant: You are the best. We are so grateful to have a model in our presence. Your problem [illegible] never failed to make us laugh.

To Alex: The yearbook is a family and you are our mother. You [illegible] in everything you do, and we can not thank you enough for all the years you have given us.

To Nicole & Fisher: Your [illegible] has at [illegible] to us. Not the [illegible] but all of [illegible] Thank you for everything!
